

Traditional Rectangle Mat vs. Lipped Mat

Some customer's prefer to have a lip on their chair mat versus the normal rectangle shaped mat. The purpose of the lip is to extend underneath the desk or table in order to protect that area of the floor if the desk chair is pushed in completely. The lip on a chair mat does not extend the full width of the mat. Therefore, it is important to understand how chair mats with a lip are measured compared to a traditional rectangle mat.

The dimensions we list for the mats with a lip include the size of the lip. The width will be the same for the listed size. However, the rectangle part of the mat will have a smaller depth measurement than the list size.

Chair mats that have a lip are offered in three standard sizes:

Overall Size	Lip Size	Rectangle Width	Rectangle Depth
36" x 48"	20" x 10"	36"	38"
45" x 53"	25" x 12"	45"	41"
46" x 60"	25" x 12"	46"	48"
